

Eleanor Court Film Programme Autumn 2026 at 2 pm.

Tuesday 8th September.

Martin Clunes Mark Addy in “Mother’s Pride.”

Returning to his home village for the first time in years Cal is shocked to find his family's pub is on the verge of going under, as his dad and brother have struggled with grief. Determined to turn things round, Cal comes up with a home-brew recipe that is a real hit with the locals. Cert 12A 2025

“The feel good film of the year.” Daily Mail

Tuesday 22nd September.

David Thewlis Rupert Friend in “ The Boy In Striped Pyjamas.”

Bruno, a young German boy, whose father is a commandant at a Nazi concentration camp befriends Shmuel, a Jewish boy on the other side of a barbed wire fence, leading to a tragic exploration of innocence amidst the horrors of the Holocaust. Cert 12A 2008

“This beautifully rendered film is told in a classic and old-fashioned style, in the best sense, providing poignant and powerful moments.” USA Today

Tuesday 6th October.

Cary Grant AudreyHepburn
in “Charade.”

Regina, newly widowed, is suddenly surrounded by dangerous men who are sure she's hiding a small fortune her husband stole in World War 11 Grant shows up as a charming stranger who might be her rescuer , or something else entirely. Between the suspense the funny dialogue and the romantic sparks, this is often called , “ the best Hitchcock film Hitchcock never made.”

Cert 12 1963

“Few thrillers create as much sheer joy and happiness as Charade, in which Cary Grant spoofs his Alfred Hitchcock persona, Audrey Hepburn exudes her usual magnetic charm, and Paris is as scenic as ever.” San Francisco Chronicle

Tuesday 20th October.

Toby Jones Gemma Jones
in “Marvellous.”

Marvellous is a true story about Neil Baldwin, a kind and optimistic man who overcomes prejudice to become a much loved member of his community, through his work, volunteering and unwavering positive attitude. He carved out an extraordinary life as a circus clown, lay preacher, university welfare officer and kitman for Stoke City Football Club. Cert 15 2014

“Toby and Gemma Jones gave performances that were almost as miraculous as the story itself.” --The Daily Telegraph